AUTHOR ONLINE USE

1. PERSONAL SERVERS. Authors and/or their employers shall have the right to post the accepted version of ISTVS-copyrighted articles on their own personal servers or the servers of their institutions or employers without permission from ISTVS, provided that the posted version includes a prominently displayed ISTVS copyright notice and, when published, a full citation to the original ISTVS publication. Authors shall not post the final, published versions of their papers.
2. CLASSROOM OR INTERNAL TRAINING USE. An author is permitted to post any portion of the accepted version of his/her own ISTVS-copyrighted articles on the author's personal web site or the servers of the author's institution or company in connection with the author's teaching, training, or work responsibilities, provided that the appropriate copyright, credit, and reuse notices appear prominently with the posted material. Examples of permitted uses are lecture materials, course packs, e-reserves, conference presentations, or in-house training courses.
3. ELECTRONIC PREPRINTS. Before submitting an article to the Conference, authors frequently post their manuscripts to their own website, their employer's site, or to another server that invites constructive comment from colleagues. Upon publication of an article by the ISTVS, the author must replace any previously posted electronic versions of the article with either (1) the full citation to the ISTVS work with a Digital Object Identifier (DOI), or (2) the accepted version only (not the ISTVS-published version), including the ISTVS copyright notice and full citation, with a link to the final, published article.
